

Current vacancies

At Sanlam we build long-term relationships with individuals, families and their advisers. That philosophy extends to our employees and the way we seek to recruit and retain talent within our business. Our people are more than just numbers on a spreadsheet, they're Wealthsmiths, and everyone has an important role to play. Whether you are an experienced professional looking to develop your career or just starting out in the world of finance, we have a range of vacancies across our UK business.