You should take appropriate investment advice and you should inform yourself as to any applicable legal requirements, taxes or exchange control regulations in the territory, country or jurisdiction of your citizenship, domicile or residence.

The information and opinions in this website are not based upon a consideration of your particular investment objectives, financial situation or needs.

This website does not constitute or form any part of any offer or invitation to issue or other solicitation of any offer to subscribe for or recommendation to issue, acquire, sell or arrange any transaction in any securities in any jurisdiction. No reliance may be placed for any purpose whatsoever on the information, representations or opinions contained in this website nor shall it or any part of it form the basis of or act as an inducement to enter into any contract for any securities.

The market value of, and the income derived from, the shares of any Sanlam Investments fund (the "Funds") may fluctuate in accordance with: the values of the investments held by the Funds and other market conditions. Investors may not get back the full value of their investment. There can be no guarantee that the investment objectives of the Funds will be met. The Funds may from time-to-time be more concentrated than those of other investment funds and thus potentially carries a higher level of risk than a more diversified portfolio. There will be times when the Funds' investment performance will be quite unlike that of any stock market index, which may or may not be to the advantage of the Funds.

The statements contained in, or incorporated by reference into, this website that are not historical facts are "forward-looking statements", which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "believes", "expects", "intends", "may", "will", "should" or "anticipates" or the negative thereof or other variations thereof or comparable terminology, that involves risks and uncertainties. Such risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, changes in market, political or business conditions or in the tax or regulatory framework in the UK or other relevant jurisdictions, any of which could cause actual results to vary materially from the future results implied in such forward-looking statements. No assurance can be given as to the future results that will be achieved. The past performance of the Funds is not a guide to the future performance of the Funds.
