Dear Investor,

Sanlam Investments UK Limited ('Sanlam'), as Investment Manager and Distributor, has carried out an Assessment of Value for the Sanlam Real Assets Fund (the 'Fund') which we are pleased to share with you. This is our first such assessment of the Fund, in future years we will be able to give you progress updates from prior year work alongside the report.

The value assessment takes into account the financial, non-monetary costs and other factors of being an investor in the Fund, and we hope and believe that this review will help all investors make more informed and suitable decisions. An Assessment of Value doesn't simply mean finding the lowest costs. This Fund is actively managed, meaning that the investment manager selects investments based on research, investigation, and process – it may be more expensive than a passive fund where investments might track, but never beat, an index (for example).

We carry out a value assessment at least yearly for funds where we believe we can meaningfully influence client outcomes. The content of the value assessment is guided by the regulator, but with the intention of making the report meaningful to all investors.

Sanlam has created an Assessment of Value Committee ('AVC'), for the review, challenge and approval of all funds' Assessments of Value. Ultimately the assessments will be subject to scrutiny by the Board (which includes an independent director) to ensure the outcomes of the assessments are clear and fair, before final sign-off by the chair of the Board prior to communicating to investors.

In carrying out the assessment, the AVC has separately considered the following criteria which is based on existing stipulations by the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority but enhanced in response to Consumer Duty Regulation. A high-level summary of the outcome of Sanlam's review of the Fund, is set out below – this assessment has been produced using the most up to date information and data available as at 28 February 2023, however a view is taken not against any single year but across more meaningful timeframes we would reasonably expect, and even recommend, investors to hold the Fund.

Criteria	Rating
1. Quality of Service – do investors get the right range and quality of customer service?	Green
2. Performance – how has the Fund performed, has it met its investment objectives?	Green
3. Costs – are the costs charged by the Fund to investors reasonable and appropriate?	Green
4. Economies of Scale – are costs reduced as the Fund grows, and are any savings passed onto investors?	Green
5. Comparable Market Rates – how is the Fund priced overall versus a suitable peer group?	Green
6. Comparable Services – how is the Fund priced when viewed against other similar funds we might manage?	Green
7. Classes of Units – are investors in the correctly priced share class and is that price reasonable?	Green
8. Suitability – how is the Fund going to be distributed and is that suitable, does the Fund remain suitable for those that might already invest?	Green
9. Vulnerable Clients – is it the case that different types of investors with specific needs can equally benefit and are they sensibly protected?	Green
Overall Rating	Green

Sanlam has adopted a traffic light system to show how we rated the Fund:

Green: On balance, Sanlam believe the Fund has delivered value to shareholders, with no material issues noted.

Amber: On balance, Sanlam believe the Fund has delivered value to shareholders, but may require some action.

Red: On balance, Sanlam believe the Fund has not delivered value to shareholders and significant remedial action is now planned.

If the Fund has three or less amber rated criteria, the overall score is Green.

If the Fund has four or five amber rated criteria, it may be considered as Amber overall.

If the Fund has six or more amber criteria, or any red rated criteria, the Fund may be considered Red overall.

How Sanlam assessed each of the criteria and the rating arrived at are discussed in greater detail on the following pages.

One important matter to note: this Fund has many different share classes. Those classes may have different costs associated with them, currencies, minimum investment amounts, hedging facilities, and may be available in different countries. In addition, this Fund is available for sale across many points of access such as platforms. We are not always able to tell if you are in the cheapest share class you could be, we strongly recommend you check and seek independent financial advice in making any investment assessments and decisions.

Conclusion and our Overall Assessment of Value

We are pleased to report that in our assessment, the Fund is delivering value to investors.

You can of course call us on 020 3116 4000 or email us on Slenquiries@sanlam.co.uk if there is any information we can help provide to you, and we would welcome any feedback you have on the content of this report.

Reviewed and approved by the Sanlam Product Oversight Committee.

Before explaining the detail of how the Assessment of Value conclusions have been reached, we wanted to set out a few key pieces of information with regard to the Fund: the benchmark, investment policy, and objective. This information is available to you in the Prospectus, Supplement and Key Investor Information Document ('KIID') which can be found on our website: <https://www.sanlam.co.uk/our-fund-range/sanlam-real-assets-fund>

- The Benchmark:

There are three types of benchmark:

Target – this would mean the target performance of a fund,

Comparator – this is used to compare the performance of a fund against, and,

Constraint – which restricts the portfolio in its composition in some way.

Sanlam is regularly required to assess and explain why a benchmark is being used or alternatively explain how investors should assess performance of a fund in the absence of a benchmark.

The Investment Manager creates an equally weighted composite "Benchmark Index" from the Consumer Price Inflation Rate of the component countries of the G10 Region Consumer Price Inflation Index (United States, Eurozone, Japan, United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden) to ensure no geographical bias.

The Fund measures its performance relative to the Benchmark Index (a composite of the Consumer Price Inflation rate of G10 region) for reference or investor communication purposes, including in the Company's annual and half-yearly reports, and KIIDs. Whilst the Fund has a target return of CPI +4%, the performance of the Fund relative to the Benchmark Index is not factored in any way into the investment process. Furthermore, the Benchmark Index does not constrain the Fund from being managed on a fully discretionary basis. The Benchmark Index is the average inflation rate +4% per annum of the G10 countries. The G10 countries are a group of economically advanced and developed countries that have agreed to participate to provide the International Monetary Fund (IMF) with additional funds to increase its lending ability.

The Factsheet for the Fund suggests peer group comparisons could be made against the IA Specialist Sector and the "Other" Morningstar Category. The Benchmark Index is not reflected on the Factsheets.

- The Investment policy and objective:

Investment Objective

The investment objective of the Fund is to target capital growth over the long term and to outperform inflation through a portfolio of investments giving exposure to a range of real assets. As the portfolio and investor base is global in nature, the inflation target will be a composite of the Consumer Price Inflation rate in a basket of relevant countries.

Policy and Guidelines

The Fund is actively managed and its investment objective will be achieved through investment of up to 100% of the Fund's Net Asset Value primarily in a global range of equity securities of companies listed on a Recognised Exchange set out in Appendix I of the Prospectus who derive their value from underlying real assets. For this purpose "real assets" are physical assets that have value due to their substance and properties e.g. housing, warehousing, infrastructure, utilities, aviation and renewable energy. There is no particular geographical focus. The securities will primarily be common stocks, preferred stocks, warrants (not more than 5% of the Fund's Net Asset Value), rights (which are issued by a company to allow holders to subscribe for additional securities issued by that company) and convertible securities (such convertible securities may embed derivatives but not increase leverage), as well as depository receipts, all of which are traded on a Recognised Exchange set out in Appendix I of the Prospectus.

1 Quality of Service

1.1 What was assessed in this section?

Sanlam, as Investment Manager and Distributor, may not directly enter into a legal agreement with all the firms providing a service to the Fund – those relationships are often entered into by other parties on behalf of the Fund. However, we take great care in oversight and governance of all business partners to make sure that the quality of service enjoyed by, and available to, all investors is of the high standard we expect.

When assessing Quality of Service, we can look at either Internal Factors being Sanlam in our appointed role, and then External Parties such as the Administrator, Depository and Custodian, Auditor, Legal support and so on.

- Internal Factors

Sanlam makes investment decisions for the Fund, promotes its sale to new investors and makes sure that existing investors are looked after, for which we are paid a share of the annual management charge as set out in the Prospectus and Supplement.

When assessing the Quality of Service Sanlam provides a range of criteria are considered including:

- the degree of skill, experience, and expertise of the particular investment managers,
- any changes during the year to the investment team composition or thesis,
- the effectiveness and efficiency of the support, governance and oversight processes within Sanlam,
- the volume of investor complaints received,
- the number of operational failings or breaches of investment restrictions and guidelines,
- the control of transaction costs, including any commissions paid and best execution,
- whether Sanlam has made information available to investors which is fair, clear, not misleading, easy to access,
- the promotion and distribution successes of the Fund, and,
- the external research or information services we procure.

- External Parties

Here we look at the key third party service providers to the Fund:

The Authorised Fund Manager ('AFM') – this independent party provides many aspects of control, oversight, and challenge for a wide range of matters including operations, risk, investments, and distribution. The AFM for the Fund is: Sanlam Asset Management (Ireland) Limited.

The Administrator – the Administrator undertakes a wide range of activities including overseeing investor dealing in the Fund, calculating the price of the share classes of the Fund, calculating and settling distribution payments, the preparation of periodic Reports and Accounts as well as tax computations, and maintaining a shareholder register which includes carrying out periodic and point of sale anti-money laundering checks. The Administrator also offers customer service support to answer queries or requests in a timely and expert manner. The Administrator is appointed by the AFM and for this Fund is: Brown Brothers Harriman Fund Administration Services (Ireland) Limited

The Depositary – this independent party is a key element within the control environment and oversight of the Fund, and is appointed by Sanlam Universal Funds PLC. The Depositary is paid according to the terms of the Prospectus and the fees are shown in the Statutory Reports and Accounts. The Depositary is a source of expertise and works collaboratively with us. The Depositary for the Fund is: Brown Brothers Harriman Trustee Services (Ireland) Limited.

The Custodian – this independent party holds the actual settled assets of the Fund, it is paid according to the terms of the Prospectus and the fees are shown in the Statutory Reports and Accounts. The Custodian provides a global network of accounts and settles trades on behalf of the Fund. The Custodian for the Fund is: Brown Brothers Harriman and their global sub-custodian network.

The Auditor – this independent party audits the financial statements and is appointed by Sanlam Universal Funds PLC. The Auditor is paid according to the terms of the Prospectus and the fees are shown in the Statutory Reports and Accounts. The Auditor must have a high degree of expertise, resource, and undertake activities within a stringent timeframe. The Auditor for the Fund is: KPMG.

Legal advisors – very much along the same lines as the Auditor, on the same terms and with the same information disclosure, we seek expert legal assistance for the Fund. The Lawyers for the Fund are: Maples and Calder LLP.

Northern Trust ('NT') – Sanlam has decided to work with NT as the outsourced executing broker for the Fund, which means that all asset dealing is handled by NT for us. We have agreed a competitive commercial rate with NT who charge the Fund a commission for each asset deal undertaken. The fees paid to NT appear in the Statutory Reports and Accounts.

Bloomberg – Sanlam uses Bloomberg for portfolio and order management purposes, market data, and aspects of regulatory reporting. The costs of Bloomberg are paid for directly by Sanlam, but the accuracy and reliability of their platform is a critical factor in the quality of service Sanlam can provide to the Fund.

Broadridge – Sanlam uses Broadridge for our Proxy Voting activity, which is a key component of company engagement. This is a service facilitated by the Custodian. The AFM also employs Broadridge to create and distribute the Key Investor Information Document (KIID) and Key Information Document (KID), then to assemble and make available the European MiFID Template (EMT) and European PRIIPs Template (EPT) data templates. This activity is undertaken to ensure our investors can have the right information available to them when making investment decisions.

There are other third party service providers to the Fund, but we have set out here the key entities. No changes of External Parties are planned in the foreseeable future, but a process of ongoing assessment and comparison between parties is part of how we manage Quality of Service for investors.

1.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

- Internal Factors

We have concluded that the nature, extent and quality of the services provided by Sanlam have benefitted, and should continue to benefit, the Fund and the investors.

- External Parties

Sanlam is satisfied that quality of service the Fund receives is adequate. The appointed service providers to the Fund are under active review, with no changes planned now or in the near future.

1.3 Were there any follow up actions?

There are no follow up actions, comments or considerations at this time.

2 Performance

2.1 What was assessed in this section?

We have looked at a detailed package of performance data including the performance of the Fund against a suitable comparator benchmark over a range of time periods including 1, 3 and 5 years. By looking at this information we can assess how the Fund has performed, but also whether an appropriate level of risk has been taken and whether the investment policy and objectives of the Fund have been achieved.

Details of how the Fund has performed can be found below. We do publish performance each month via Factsheets which can be found on our website. We are not able to include the Benchmark Index on the factsheets.

Performance Since Inception

Discrete Performance

12 months	Jan-23	Jan-22	Jan-21	Jan-20	Jan-19
SI USD Acc	-7.2	5.3	8.2	17.6	-
A GBP Acc	-8.7	4.8	5.8	-	-
A GBP Inc	-8.7	4.8	5.8	15.6	-

Data source: Morningstar net of fees – the performance shown is based on the largest share class by value, this class is not available to all investors. As ever, we note that the past cannot be used as a guide to the future performance, the value of investments can go down as well as up meaning investors may not get back the amount originally invested which may well be a result of market movements and exchange rates between currencies. The Fund has a range of key risk characteristics which are all set out in the Prospectus and Supplement, available on our website, and some of those risks may be less predictable than others depending on specific and exceptional market conditions.

2.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

The Fund has endured a challenging period in performance terms over the last year. During the first half of calendar 2022 performance was resilient in the face of rising bond yields, helped by the inflation linkage of the revenues of a large portion of the underlying assets and the knock-on benefit higher oil and gas prices on alternative energy assets. However, the Liability Driven Investment crisis (the Truss/Kwarteng tenure) inspired spike in UK bond yields in September, along with the gradual normalisation of energy prices over the course of the second half of the year, caused performance to subsequently turn negative. In the time from inception up to this point, the Fund had delivered strong performance, the significant price weakness since summer 2022 and the comparison with surging global inflation have resulted in the Fund underperforming. This has also impacted the three year relative performance.

This a long only fund with a long term investment horizon. As such, the portfolio was fully exposed to the wider market weakness in its investment universe. Valuations of the underlying assets in the Fund are presently heavily discounted and expected to recover. In the meantime the Fund offers an attractive dividend yield of circa 4%, with embedded income growth from resilient underlying asset revenues and material inflation linkage. On this basis we remain confident in the ability of the Fund to meet its performance objective over the longer term.

Notwithstanding the recent poor performance, the objective for the Fund is defined in accordance with the Supplement as seeking to achieve capital growth over the long term and to outperform inflation. Based on the performance track record since inception, this objective has been achieved.

2.3 Were there any follow up actions?

Having analysed the reasons behind the Fund's recent underperformance we are satisfied that no corrective action is required. We believe the best policy from this point on is for the manager to remain resolutely committed to the underlying investment strategy.

3 Costs

3.1 What was assessed in this section?

Here we break down each element of the annual Ongoing Charge Figure ('OCF') to make sure we happy that all costs were and are reasonable, and truly reflect the services provided. The key components of the OCF are as follows, which all should be transparent and understandable to the investor, with no hidden costs:

The costs of the AFM and the costs of the Directors,

The Annual Management Charge, which is the source of the payment made to Sanlam,

The Administration Fee, the Registrar fee for keeping the shareholder register and additional services provided by the Administrator which may come at an extra charge,

The Depositary fee,

The amount paid to the Custodian for safekeeping, transaction charges and additional services,

The Audit and Legal fees, these are separate firms,

A Regulatory fee paid to ensure adherence,

Research if that the fund is asked to pay,

The costs of trading assets in the market,

Then fees associated with the creation, publishing and distribution of information and data.

3.2 What was not assessed in this section?

We cannot see any payments you have made to an independent financial advisor or intermediary, nor can we see any costs you may have incurred either holding an investment or trading assets on a particular platform.

The OCF excludes the concept of implicit costs and charges, otherwise known as "slippage". This is assessed more generally under the Quality of Service section provided to you by the Investment Manager.

The Fund may apply an initial charge for certain share classes, but does not charge a performance fee, anti-dilution levy or an exit charge.

Data representing the year ending 31 December 2022, as produced by BBH and Broadridge.

Our assessment shows that the fees charged are competitive and reasonable, carefully controlled with investors' best interests a driving force. Costs and charges are widely disclosed openly and clearly.

3.4 Were there any follow up actions?

There are no follow up actions at this time.

4 Economies of Scale

4.1 What was assessed in this section?

Costs are payable by the Fund via a combination of fixed (set amount of money regardless of the size of the Fund), minimum (some providers have an absolute minimum they can charge in a year) and then fees based on a percentage of Asset Under Management ('AUM'). We aim to ensure that the Fund offers good value to investors but then also to examine the effect on the OCF if AUM were to change, and to see what savings can be passed on to our clients.

As a starting point we try to ensure that we work with service providers across a wide range of funds, thus achieving critical mass with each supplier and being able to seek the negotiation of the best possible rates.

4.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

Based on the fee tariff arrangements for the Fund, as AUM increases, the OCF would subsequently fall so savings would be passed onto investors.

4.3 Were there any follow up actions?

The fee paid to Sanlam is not capped or tiered. Should AUM levels materially increase, consideration needs to be given to this structure of fees, but that is not relevant at this time.

5 Comparable Market Rates

5.1 What was assessed in this section?

We compared the OCF of the Fund against a similar set of other funds available in the market. This is the key control to help ensure that the OCF is appropriate and reasonable.

Whilst the costs and charges paid to all the third parties stated are subject to an element of commercial sensitivity, Sanlam works with a wide number of similar parties and is well placed to review providers against each other. Of course, fund size and complexity vary, but a review is undertaken as appropriately as possible.

5.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

The Fund represents good value for money on a relative, and absolute, basis.

5.3 Were there any follow up actions?

There are no follow up actions.

6 Comparable Services

6.1 What was assessed in this section?

Sanlam reviews other funds or mandates we might manage of a similar type to that of the Fund, taking into account amongst other things investment objectives, the geographic and sector focus, risks, and fund size, and looks at how much we might charge to provide investment management and distribution services to that fund. Again, we are looking for costs to be consistent, appropriate and reasonable.

6.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

The investment management team responsible for making decisions on behalf of the Fund do make investment decisions for other Sanlam funds which could be argued display similar characteristics with which to make a meaningful price comparison. When viewed in this context, we would suggest that this Fund is consistently and fairly priced.

6.3 Were there any follow up actions?

No follow up actions are required.

7 Classes of Units

7.1 What was assessed in this section?

We reviewed the multiple share classes available to investors, with an aim to ensuring all holders are in the correct, and potentially cheapest, share class given the size of holding.

7.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

There are a number of share classes with varied pricing mechanisms including up front charges, minimum investment values, and fees payable to Sanlam and the AFM. Those classes are designed to provide an investment opportunity to clients of the Sanlam Group and priced to avoid charging investors twice. Therefore our conclusion is that those classes are priced fairly and to ensure best investor outcomes.

All investors are otherwise in the cheapest share class for which they are eligible based on minimum investment sizes.

7.3 Were there any follow up actions?

A number of share classes of differing Annual Management Charge levels are available in the scheme documents in order to facilitate potential investor requirements. Sanlam should work with the AFM to ensure that these classes are only made available to investors if a business case is presented for review.

Sanlam will also work with the AFM to review minimum investment levels and KIID production for the share classes of the Fund.

8 Suitability

8.1 What was assessed in this section?

We looked at the characteristics of the Fund, what sort of fund it is and how it goes about delivering the investment policy and objective, what risks are notable. We then go on to assess what sorts of clients the Fund might be suitable for, what would be the characteristics and needs of investors, and indeed: who is the Fund not suitable for. Finally, armed with this information, we determine and review the distribution strategy: how will the Fund be promoted and to whom?

8.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

We believe that the Fund is managed within a framework designed to protect investors, ensure diversification, and manage risk as part of portfolio construction.

The distribution and marketing requirements, disclosures, and strategy Sanlam employs are carefully tailored to an assessment of the Fund.

The Fund is not intended to be sold as part of a package. There is natural cross-selling across all the Sanlam fund range depending on the needs of the investor.

8.3 Were there any follow up actions?

The suitability oversight will be enhanced in 2023 in response to Consumer Duty regulation and any requirements, comments or action points will be fed back into the process which sits behind this document.

9 Vulnerable Clients

We have determined that Vulnerable Clients should be a separate criterion within the Assessment of Value as client vulnerability is a matter of paramount importance. However, vulnerable clients are a consideration we incorporate into each and every of the other sections 1 through to 8.

9.1 What was assessed in this section?

We investigated, debated and discussed whether we felt the Fund offered good value for money for investors who may be in an unstable financial situation, with changing circumstances, and varying degrees of understanding of the financial world, language and risks.

9.2 What was the outcome of the assessment?

It was felt that the Fund offered access to an important investment universe and level of expertise in that market. We believe that the Fund would be suitable for our target market and may permit useful diversification opportunities for clients.

In our opinion, there were no investor benefits we felt that Vulnerable Clients would not be able to enjoy.

9.3 Were there any follow up actions?

There were no specific follow up actions noted.

Important information

The Fund has holdings which are denominated in currencies other than sterling and may be affected by movements in exchange rates. The Fund may invest in derivatives to reduce risk or cost and/or generate extra income or growth. There is a risk that losses could be made on derivative positions or that the counterparties could fail to complete on transactions. Part of the fund may invest in bonds. Investment in bonds and other debt instruments will be impacted by factors such as changes in interest rates and risk of default by the issuer.

The value of this portfolio is subject to fluctuation and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. The performance is calculated for the portfolio and the actual individual investor performance will differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. All terms exclude costs. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying investments to go up or down. Do remember that the value of participatory interests or the investment and the income generated from them may go down as well as up and is not guaranteed, therefore, you may not get back the amount originally invested and potentially risk total loss of capital. Therefore, the Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The Manager has the right to close any Portfolios to new investors to manage them more efficiently in accordance with their mandates. Collective Investment Schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. Collective Investment Schemes (CIS) are generally medium to long term investments. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request free of charge from the Manager, the Investment Manager or at www.sanlam.co.uk. A full summary of investor rights can also be found online at <https://www.sanlam.co.za/ireland/Documents/SAMI%20Shareholder%20Engagement%20Policy.pdf> Documents are provided in English.
