* Portfolio yield is calculated by adding the net dividend amounts for all dividend types that have gone 'ex' over the past 12 months based on the dividend frequency. This total excludes taxes, any related dividend fees or tax related credits

 Distribution yield is the amount received by an investor, and is the sum of distributions paid over the past 12 months, based on the frequency and divided by the last price

The Fund may invest in companies based in emerging markets which may involve additional risks not typically associated with other more established markets such as increased risk of social, economic and political uncertainty. The Fund has holdings which are denominated in currencies other than sterling and may be affected by movements in exchange rates. Consequently the value of an investment may rise or fall in line with the exchange rates.

The value of this portfolio is subject to fluctuation and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. The performance is calculated for the portfolio and the actual individual investor performance will differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. All terms exclude costs. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying investments to go up or down. Do remember that the value of participatory interests or the investment and income generated from them may go down as well as up and is not guaranteed, therefore, you may not get back the amount originally invested and potentially risk total loss of capital. Therefore, the Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The Yield is calculated on historic dividend income from the preceding 12 months. Since the yield is based on past information it is provided as a guide and should not be taken as a guaranteed yield. If fees are charged to the capital account then this could reduce the amount invested. Income may fluctuate in accordance with market conditions and taxation arrangements. The Manager has the right to close any Portfolios to new investors to manage them more efficiently in accordance with their mandates. Collective Investment Schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. Collective Investment Schemes (CIS) are generally medium to long term investments. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request free of charge from the Manager, the Investment Manager or at www.sanlam.ie.

Monthly commentary

The Sanlam Global High Quality Fund underperformed the MSCI World Index during the month by 0.3%, with the fund losing 2.9%.

The best performing stock this month was Bayer (+4.5%). During the month Bayer posted a strong set of results with all parts of the business doing well. During the quarter the company sold its animal health business to Elanco for a higher price than the market was expecting. There was also good news concerning an important patent which could help to shore up company cash flow over the next few years.

Sage (+4.1%) and Altria (+4.0%) were also strong performers. Sage has recovered after posting some poor results in July. They report their Q3 results later in November. Altria had a strong month after abandoning plans to merge with Philip Morris. Although their results contained a part-write-down of their JUUL acquisition. This did not come as a huge surprise given the issues currently facing the e-vaping industry in the US currently.

Both Yum! Brands (-14.8%) and Danone (-10.8%) performed below expectations during the month on the back of disappointing results. Yum's third brand, Pizza Hut, continues to struggle as the company look to stabilise the business.

It is worth noting that sterling strengthened 5.3% against the dollar this month which serves to highlight the volatile macro environment investors are facing at the moment.
