

Sanlam Credit Fund

Q2 2021 | Quarterly newsletter

Market recap

The demand for credit risk remains stable and resilient, and this is despite the likelihood of tapering in the coming months from both the ECB and the Fed, alongside the seasonal slowdown of purchases by Central Banks during the summer period. Notably, the Fed chose to signal that it may hike interest rates a little sooner than previous projections (but still not until 2023), however, this also failed to dampen investor enthusiasm.

The key drivers for stable corporate bond performance are an accommodative central bank, strong technical, ongoing economic recovery and an expectation that the earnings rebound will lead to a speedy improvement in balance sheet fundamentals. The supportive factors can be seen across several central banks.

Long-term Interest rate pressures continue to level off from the dramatic upswing in Q1, driven by more moderate economic indicators, which is another supportive factor to the ongoing demand for corporate risk.

Fund review

The Sanlam Credit Fund ended the quarter up 1.65% in Sterling terms. The Investment Team is particularly pleased with its strong performance during the quarter and the Fund, once again, breached its high-water mark for quarter end.

The Fund's attractive yield of circa. 2.5% and an average rated Investment Grade credit profile, alongside an effective duration of circa. 3%, should continue to provide an attractive shelter for the more cautious of investors, seeking to prioritize capital preservation and downside protection.

The net income produced for the B Inc GBP share class in Q2 was £0.92, taking the 12-month net income to £3.71, comfortably ahead of the BoE UK Base Rate +1-2% target. Taking into consideration the last 12-months of net income and the price of the B Inc GBP share class, the Current Yield of the Fund is 3.7%.

The fund's top positive and negative contributors to performance in the quarter are listed below:

Positive:

Commerzbank 5.5% 2028, local return of 5.38% in Q2, contributing 0.13% to performance

- This is one of our favourite investment opportunities with the security denominated in AUD, offering a yield substantially higher than Commerzbank is quoted in other currencies. Note, in all instances FX exposure is hedged back into the base currency of GBP. We look for further performance going forward.

Paragon 4.375% 2031, local return of 5.38% in Q2, contributing 0.09% to performance

- Paragon has achieved most of its transformational journey to become a banking group, while maintaining great income generation. After meeting the company a few times, we have participated in its recent T2 new issue which was well received by the markets. Paragon continues to be one of our high conviction names.

Negative:

Aroundtown 5.25% Perp, local return of -0.51% in Q2, contributing -0.01% to performance

- Aroundtown is a recent investment for the Fund. There has been no news since purchase, so the very minimal negative contribution is likely to be mostly the bid/offer impact.

No other negative contributors in the quarter.

What to expect

The Funds' strategy of intensive credit fundamental analysis, alongside imaginative security selection, driven by a short duration emphasis should alleviate some of the headwinds that Fixed Income investors may face in the coming months.

We look to repeat our guarded message from last month which is that we consider the fundamental environment positive for credit markets and the outlook for an economic recovery improved, with many companies having strengthened their balance sheets. However, the outlook is not without risk, as valuations mostly factor in this positive outlook and threat of inflation and higher long-term interest rates should not be ignored.

Increasing concern around the spread of the more contagious Delta variant has, for now, fortunately not had a meaningful impact on hospitalisations. The vaccination rollout continues with its success and offers a clearer path out of the pandemic, providing opportunities within credit markets. Our themes and strategies will require a continuation of the disciplined and rigorous credit analysis that the Investment Team employs.

Important Information

The Fund will invest in debt securities. The government or company issuer of a bond might not be able to repay either the interest or the original loan amount and therefore default on the debt. This would affect the credit rating of the bond and, in turn, the value of the fund. Investment in bonds and other debt instruments (including related derivatives) is subject to interest rate risk. If long-term interest rates rise, the value of your shares is likely to fall.

The Fund may invest in derivatives for the purpose of hedging, efficient portfolio management and/or investment purpose. There is a risk that losses could be made on derivative positions or that the counterparties could fail to complete on transactions.

The Fund may engage in transactions in financial derivative instruments for Share Class hedging purposes only. There is a risk that losses could be made on derivative positions or that the counterparties could fail to complete on transactions.

The value of this portfolio is subject to fluctuation and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. The performance is calculated for the portfolio and the actual individual investor performance will differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. All terms exclude costs. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying investments to go up or down. Do remember that the value of participatory interests or the investment and the income generated from them may go down as well as up and is not guaranteed, therefore, you may not get back the amount originally invested and potentially risk total loss of capital. Therefore, the Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The Manager has the right to close any Portfolios to new investors to manage them more efficiently in accordance with their mandates. Collective Investment Schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. Collective Investment Schemes (CIS) are generally medium to long term investments.
